THE REGULAR DIVIDENDS DECLARED. ACTION OF THE DIRECTORS OF THE CHICAGO, MILWAUKEE AND ST. PAUL.

The directors of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul yesterday declared the regular dividends of the per cent on the preferred and 2 per cent on the common stock. The dividends are payable October Mand transfer books will close September 28. This ets at rest a question about which there had been much dispute in Wall Street. The dividends are payable out of the earnings for the year ended June 30, which showed about 6 per cent earned on the Street that the St. Paul would withhold the diviend on the common stock because of the poor outlook for earnings in the coming year on account of et crops and depression in manufacturing busi-

Roswell Miller, president of the company, was asked yeaterday about the outlook. "It is impossible to make predictions," he replied. "It all depends upon the financial situation. As to the crops along the line of our road, I believe that, taking them all together, they will be about the same as last year. Wheat is short, but corn is ahead, and so is fax. Taking the entire yield, I think we will have as much grain to move as ever. Manufacturing industries are very much depressed. Most of the mills are closed, or are curtailing work. There has been some improvement lately, but not enough yet to make a material impression upon earnings. No one can predict what future earnings will be, but I can say this—I think we have made about the worst of our comparisons."

Chicago, Sept. 14.-General passenger agents of the Western roads have been making a quiet cancould be secured through a further reduction of that no further reductions are to be thought of. that no further reductions are to be thought of.
Alderman W. R. Kerr, chairman of the Committee on Arrangement for Chicago Day at the World's Fair, has asked the chairman of the Western Passenger Association to refrain from submitting any proposition concerning reduced rates for that occasion until the committee can see him and present its views on the subject. The chairman has complied with the request.

Denver, Sept. 14.-Ex-Governor Evans's suit for a Railway Company has been transferred from the District Court to the United States Circuit Court. Midavits are presented to the effect that after the Amazvis are presented to the effect that after the transfer of the road to the Union Pacific it ceased to do business as an independent line, E. F. Arthur, formerly secretary to Manager Meek, in his affidavit says that the Union Pacific simply made of the Denver and Gulf a side-track for its main line. W. G. Evans also deposes that at a meeting of the directors of the road a resolution which he new contract was carried out, was voted down by Union Pacific proxies. Union Pacific proxies.

A FOREIGNER'S ARGUMENT.

AMERICAN WORKINGMEN MORE INTELLIGENT AND INDUSTRIOUS THAN THOSE OF EUROPE. To the Editor of The Tribune.

Sir: I beg to call your attention to two state-ments which have been attributed to me in the Washington Special to The New-York Tribune. published this morning. Speaking about my testimony before the Ways and Means Committee, your reporter makes me say:

lat—He also admitted that the productiveness of the labor, hand for hand, is nearly equal in the two countries, whatever advantage there is being in favor of the United States.

I did not admit anything of the kind, but what I said was this:

I said was this:

But I find that using the same machines that we use, your workingmen produce more. Looking at your official statistics as well as the data gathered by myself from a number of American manufacturers, and comparing the average number of yards of cloth that you produce on the same loom used in European factories, I come to the conclusion that your weavers, being more intelligent and more industrious than our weavers, who work for lower wages, produce more value in a day than the European workingmar.

2d.—The special makes me. say: 2d-The special makes me say:

2d—The special makes me say.

Mr. Latzko was also clearly of the opinion that his own business would be benefited and the importations of goods from Austria into the United States vastly increased by the reduction of duties to the rate advocated by him.

My statement was as follows:

My statement was as follows:

A reduction of duties would, as I said before, probably stimulate imports in a measure, but on the other hand the abolition of duty on raw material would enable the American manufacturer to produce his goods so much cheaper that the consumption would be largely increased. The increased imports in that case would hardly cut a figure compared with the larger profits derived by the American manufacturer by means of larger sales.

I should be indebted to you for a correction, as your report would create a wrong impression as to some of the main points contained in my argument before the committee.

HENRY LATZKO. Washington, Sept. 13, 1893.

ALL THE CHILDREN SHARE THE EXPENSE.

To the Editor of The Tribune. Sir: The article published this morning, describing the Gould Memorial Church, now being erected at Roxbury, Delaware County, is in error in stating that it is built by Miss Helen Gould alone. The expense is borne equally by all of Jay Gould's children. Kingston, N. Y., Sept. 14, 1893.

THE LAKE SHORE TRAIN ROBBERY.

THE STARTLING ASPECT OF IT. From The Chicago Record.

The whole affair was dramatic and startling in the method of its performance. But the most startling aspect is that it was possible to be done at all.

WILL GATLING GUNS BE NECESSARY?

From The Springfield Republican.

If this crime becomes epidemic, the only remedy, besides patrolling the entire route of the railroad is to fortify the train with arms. Perhaps a Gatling gun in the express car would do nicely and be sufficient in itself to "clean out" any ordinary band of railroad highwaymen.

A FEDERAL STATUTE NEEDED. The Chicago Tribune.

From The Chicago Tribune.

It is the duty of Congress to enact a strong, vigorous statute for the protection of interstate railroads running under United States laws and carrying the mails and public property. It should confer upon the United States courts the right to punish those who interfere with and stop trains for purposes of robbery, and it should make it the duty of the officials who have charge of other Federal detective business to run down and capture these secoundrels. IT LOOKS SHEEPLIKE AT THIS DISTANCE.

From The Boston Transcript.

Such robberies have been very common lately in the Southwest, but this is the first recent instance in the old States. Through them all one resemblance is preserved, the sheeplike tameness with which every one of the robbed submitted to robbery.

HANGING WOULD BE A DETERRENT. From The Pittsburg Chronicle Telegraph.

They are all potential murderers, and they deserve to be hanged. The hanging of a few train robbers would have a deterrent effect.

MORE EFFECTUAL SAFEGUARDS REQUIRED. From The New-York World.

The railroad and express companies must spend money, as the banks and safe-deposit companies 6, for the more effectual guarding of the property intrusted to their care, and the officers of the law must be vigilant to meet this new form of agreesion.

SHIPWRECKED SAILORS BROUGHT HOME. The Seminole, of the Clyde Line, from Charleston Murphy, which was wrecked on August 29 near Pensacola. The men were taken off by the Norwegian brig Meda, and taken to Tybee, where they were transferred to the Seminole. The Nettle Murphy, after being abandoned, was set on fire and burned down to the water's edge. She was in the path of navigation and would have been a dan-zerous dereilet.

REBUKED BY DHARMAPALA.

A STRIKING SCENE IN THE PARLIAMENT OF RELIGIOUS

THE ORIENTAL SCHOLAR THINKS CHRISTIANS

Arrayed in robes of spotless white, which seemed all the whiter by reason of his swarthy counteindex finger extended and every muscle of his body quivering with excitement, Dharmapala, the Buddh ton this afternoon and thus hurled defiance at the great audience before him. A volley of cheers was dwelling intent upon every word, sat the venerable Edward Everett Hale, who had just come from an adjoining hall. On his right was the negro Chant, the English Radical; next to her, his head encircled in a turban of white, was Dakoyoshi Matuysama, the advocate of Shintoism, side by side philosopher of the Brahmo-Somaj. It was a striking scene and a striking occasion. The Buddhist had been introduced after an address of remarkable liberality by the Rev. Dr. L. Rexford, of Boston. He expressed his gratification that an opportunity had been afforded him o ment, and said that it mattered little what a man's dogma was, or what his theology, if he was only sincere and true to the light within him. Then surveying the audience, he suddenly demanded: "How many of you have read the life of Buddha? Five hands, four of them belonging to women, were timidly held up.

"Five, only," said the Buddhist, with a tone and look of disdain. "Four hundred and seventy-five millions of people accept our religion of love and of hope. You call yourself a Nation, a great Nation, and yet you do not know the history of this great teacher. How dare you judge us?" And the audience cheered again and again.

"You complain that you do not make converts among us," he continued. "You preach a God of love, but in your actions you are selfish. You make of an ignorant or an unsophisticated man a perfect ing, bloody Juggernaut to secure the means to save alleged heathens. Juggernaut has been popularized by Christian missionaries, and yet a commission composed of eminent Englishmen has deciared that the Christian idea of Juggernaut was a myth, that oblivion." And so the Oriental scholar went on scoring his hearers and defending his own creed. He asked how many had read the life of Ma-homet, the Prophet of Arabia, and when four hands went up he asked why they should denounce Mahometanism when they knew nothing of it or its founder. And with every sentence he carried his

Rev. Dr. Rexford, the Boston Universalist clergy-man, who took for his subject "The Religious In-tent." He said he had no symmetry Quite as radical in its way was the address who wanted to be separated from the bonds that ound them to the tragic past. He preferred to keep his share of the bond so that he could rejoice in the development of mankind in glorying that evolutionary religion had brought them where they vere to-day. He did not believe in talking of a fallen man, but of an undeveloped man. Revela-eading speakers of the day, taking for his topic, leading speakers of the day, taking for his topic. Religion Essentially a Characteristic of Humanity. Interest centred largely upon the paper prepared by Cardinal Gibbons upon the "Needs of Humanity Supplied by the Catholic Relicion." It had been expected that the Cardinal would present the paper in person, but owing to his ill health it was read by Bishop Keane, of the Catholic University at Washington. As became its author, it was a scholarly production, a review of the work of the Catholic Church, and while it was attentively listened to, its sallent points were repeatedly interrupted with applicable. In conclusion the Cardinal said.

Church have been and are to-day zealous promoters of competed. Not is speak of the influence of the first trian houses established by our non-Catholic brethren throughout the land. I bear cheerful testimony to the plantitropic justitutions founded by Wilson and Shepherd, by Johns Hopkins, Finch Prait and George Peabody in the city of Baltimore. But will not our separated brethren have the candor to acknowledge that we had dist possession of the field; that these beneficent move-ments have been inaugurated by us, and that the other Christian communities in their noble efforts for the moral and social regeneration of mankind have, in no small measure, been stimulated by the example and candistion of ie ancient Church?

Something concerning the origin of Shintoism Something concerning the origin of Shintoism was told the audience by the Rev. Akayoshi Matsuhama, of Japan. Mrs. Lydia H. Dickinson, in an address upon "The Divine Basis of Cooperation of Man and Woman," said that woman was not subject to man, nor man to woman. They were one, and that precluded the idea of subjection. Truth was masculine and love feminine. The Congress of the Congregational Church was brought to a close to-day with a service of prayer and song. The congress of the United Brethren was presided over by Bishop J. Weaver, and that of the Advent Christian Church by the Rev. D. R. Mansfield. In these, as in the Congress of Universalists, Disciples of Christ and Church of the New Jerusalem, the subjects ascussed had exclusive reference to the doctrines and work of the various denominations.

RINGING CHEERS FOR GOVERNOR M'KINLEY

AND THE OHIO NATIONAL GUARD-A

BIG TRAIN FROM THE EAST. Chicago, Sept. 14.—William McKinley, the Governor of Ohio, his general staff and aids, the 3d Infantry of the Ohio National Guard Grand Army veterans, and the State and Nationa missioners for the Buckeye State made a tri umphal and imposing entry into the Exposition

Plaisance. The procession was part of the Ohio Day celebration. The Governor and his uniformed staff rode in carriages behind a company of Columbian guards and the commissioners. He pas through the lines of cheering thousands from the uttermost parts of the earth, but Americans, and especially those from the Governor's State, largely predominated. The 3d Infantry marched 700 strong in command of Colonel Charles Anthony, of Springfield, and received the second share in the applause. The 14th Infantry of Ohio, under command of Colonel J. B. It took ten locomotives to draw a train into the Polk-st, station yesterday. The train was the Erie No. 1, bringing passengers from Eastern points, but mainly from New-York and Boston. It was made up of twenty passenger cars and 100 ordinary coaches and baggage cars. The train was divided into ten sections of twelve cars each. From eight to ninety persons travelled in each car, but allowing the lesser number for each would give the total of 5,600 passengers for that one train alone. This is a fair example of the way Eastern roads are carrying World's Fair visitors these days.

POLITICAL ODDS AND ENDS.

DEMOCRATIC LEADERS GATHERING.

Senator Murphy divided yesterday between the races and those of his friends who called to see him at the Hoffman House. Among them were ex-Mayor Grant, whom the Senator is believed to regard as a good compromise candidate for Govunavailable: Surrogate Fitzgerald, Police Commismachine politicians. Judge Maynard also called was remarked in the Senator's presence that the Cleveland Administration did not take kindly to Judge Maynard and that there would be no meet defeat. "Judge Maynard will be nominated and he be elected," said Mr. Murphy quietly. This was regarded as evidence of the Senator's full conversion to the scheme of the Hill "combine" to place its creature and instrument of crime upon the bench of the highest court of the State. Both he and Mr. roker were strongly opposed to Maynard's cannomination a few weeks ago.

Lleutenant-Governor Shechan arrived in the city last evening. He was met by his brother, Police Commissioner, and went to the Hoffman House, where he had a talk with Senator Murphy House, where he had a talk with Senator Murphy. The Lieutenant-Governor will probably remain over Sunday. Senator Hill is also expected, and then, with Mr. Croker, there will be a full meeting of the four "statesmen" who control the destinies of the Empire State. These great men will meet and argue finally upon the nominations to be made at Saratoga by the machine State Convention, on October 3. There has been talk of some changes, but it is not believed that the ticket will vary from the slate already announced.

There was a good deal of comment yesterday among politicians regarding Mr. Croker's visit to Secretary Lamont on Weinesday, and the Boss's bold demand for the minor offices to be distributed by Mr. Cleveland's Anti-Snapper appointers in this city, it was said that among other arguments used Mr. Croker said he desired to call the attention of the Administration to the fact that Tammany Hall had absolute control of the election machinery of New-York City and possessed the power of electing or defeating State tickets in the future by decreeing a large or small majority as the organization might determine.

JUDGE MAYNARD SAYS IT WOULD BE WRONG FOR HIM TO ELECTIONEER, AND THEN DOES IT.

The effrontery of Judge Isaac H. Maynard has been beautifully illustrated during the last week. He wants payment for the goods which he has de-livered to his bosses, and nothing but a full term on the beach will satisfy him. Hill and Sheehan think he has earned it, and have made him the candidate of their choice. But some of these other bench I laid politics aside, and I now stand on my record as a judge merely." He added, however, that he would accept the nomination if it was offered to him.

This week he has been doing exactly that which he denounced last week. He has been to Washington to confer with Senator Hill, and to sound the feeling of the Administration toward his candidacy. He came back to this city Weinesday night, and he put in yesterday with the local politicians. He called upon Senator Murphy at the Hoffman House, but the Senator was out. He went up the State again yesterday afternoon, feeling that he had done all he could in his own behalf.
